 Laboratory comment:

The prognosis for cervical cancer associated with high-risk strains of the HPV virus indicates that types 16 and 18 pose an elevated risk.

Interpretation of positive result:

1. A positive result indicates the presence of HPV DNA in the specimen.
2. Detection of high-risk HPV types indicates an increased risk for cervical lesions.
3. Results should be interpreted in the context of clinical history and other diagnostic tests.

This report, which has received electronic approval, remains confidential and pertains exclusively to the specimen(s) received on the date specified above.
